 This set up is just one of many ways you can set up a gun belt. Take the time to really consider what your mission is and what you want to be able to do, and what you'll need to be able to do when setting up your plate carrier. Don't rush this process. We set this gun belt up to be multi-functional and capable of doing work in urban, semi-rural environments, and run in gun competitions and accommodate for any pistol and associated magazines.

 We recommend safariland or T-Rex Arms holsters due to their ability to be interchanged with another pistol holster with ease. You simply unclip one holster and clip in the other if you want to run a different gun.

 You only need a lanyard if you're working with aircraft.
